Camille D'Arville To-Night. Commencing to-night at the Grand, Camille D'Arville and her company will be heard for the first time, in the hit of the year, Stange & Edwards's successful opera, 'Madeline, or the Magic Kiss."

The scene of the opera was laid in Normandy during the last century. Miss D'Arville is said to be in excellent voice this season. George C. Boniface, jr., a comedian who is well known here, is with this orranization. W. G. Stewart, the bariton has an excellent voice. Ravenscroft is the Baron De Grimm. Rose Layton, the comedienne of the company, is a favorite here, and in her part as a widow has plenty of

Popovici's American Debut. CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 13 .- Popovici, the baritone made his first appearance in America as Telramund, in "Lohengrin," with the Damrosch Opera Company tonight. He made a strong impression with a most virile and realistic Telramund, and at the end of the second act was four times called before the curtain. There was even greater enth islasm in the audience than on the opening night, evoked alike by soloists

There is a change of bill at the Park this afternoon, when Amy Lee, Frank Doane and their company opens in "Miss Harum

Helene Mora, the popular songstress, is to be at the Grand next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in "A Modern Mephisto." Rice's big "1492" follows the last half of the week.

E. D. Shultz, in advance of Sandow, is in the city arranging for the muscular giant's appearance here next week. Sandow will give a private exhibition to members of the medical profession while in Indianapolis.

Each return visit of Sousa's Band to Indianapolis shows increasing popularity for this eminent leader and his fine orcanization of musicians. At Tomlinson Hall last night was the largest audience that ever attended a Sousa concert here. There were nine numbers on the programme, but the numerous encores length-ened it out to twice that number. The new "King Cotton" march started a per-fect furore of enthusiasm that resulted in the band being called back four times.

INCIPIENT SUFFRAGISTS.

Advanced Women Hope for the Education of Their Silent Sisters.

We have heard a great deal lately of suffragists and anti-suffragists, of voting "yes" and voting "no," or of not voting at all (for the purpose of expressing a "no") on the question of municipal suffrage for women; but very little has been said of the large number of women who cannot fairly be counted as belonging to either side. These women, who have said nothing and one nothing and belong nowhere, are, pernite opinions, and it is in the nature of things that they should become an im-portant factor in settling the vexed ques-tion as their minds become stimulated into greater activity by the repeated asking of the old question. At least, their mere ex-istence disposes of the anti-suffrage claim that all women not voting "yes" have

A bright young believer in the political duties of womankind has been making a of these silent women in a small New England town. She divides them into the dormant, the dumb and the defiant; and she reports the following conversations with three ladies who severally represent

"Well, Mrs. A., are you going to vote with the rest of the women" Mrs. A.: "Women going to vote? Didn't know any-thing about it. What do they want to vote for? We've got along pretty well without them so far. Of course, I've no objection to their voting if they want to, just as many of them as please to. Don't I want to myself? Well, no, I don't know as I do, and I don't know as I do; it'll be time enough for me when it spreads more: when the neighbors go I spose I shall go

And she resumed her critical study of the clothes and behavior of those same meighbors as they passed the window-her only outlook into the world.

Mrs. B. looks up with level eyelids at her enthusiastic questioner! "Why, child, I've always thought just so; of course every woman has just as much a born right to it as every man, but I'm too old to change my ways now and my daughter she feels just so. We've always been used to old-daughters, when they are big enough, they'll follow you every time."

Mrs. C. is a pillar of society. She is afraid of nothing, and whatever is worth supporting finds a sure stay in her. The ardent suffragist gets out her pencil, not doubting that the short list of registering women will be increased by one. But Mrs. C's eyes flash fire and her umbrella prods a hoic in the soft leaf-strewn village path as she used it to punctuate her paragraphs. "Vote now? and fall into that weak antisuffrage trap? Not I. They only want to prove a majority on their side, and everybody knows they've got it. They give us the end of the reins and say, There, drive away if you want to.' I'm not three years old—I'm over. I believe in the suffrage, and when the men open the front door and take off their hats and ask the honor of my presence at the polls, I'll come and of my presence at the polls, I'll come and not a minute sooner. No back doors for baving added to her hope, if not to her list, seeing before her in the shortening future a day when the dormant shall awake and the dumb shall speak and the defiant shall enter the ranks of citizenship with all the honors accorded and with the willing consent of a growing majority.

MELTI-MURDERER HOLMES NOT SAT-ISPIED WITH THE VERDICT.

He Gives Many Reasons for Another Hearing-Double Murder and Suicide in Texas.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.-H. Holmes, the alleged multi-murderer, who was recently convicted of the murder of B. F. Pietzel, to-day, through his counsel, filed reasons for a new trial. The grounds laid, which will be argued next Monday, are mainly: That the verdict was against the law and the evidence; new matter discovered since the trial; for the reason that the district attorney, in his opening speech, made statements which related to other crimes which could not be part of the evidence, and they were of such a terrible nature that their effect on the jury was the morgue. The court erred in allowing Mrs. Pietzel to testify or state what her husband had told her; in not allowing Mrs. Pietzel to testify of her own knowledge to the doings and troubles of her husband in Terre Haute, Ind.; in allowing the testi-mony of Mrs. Pietzel relating to the bottle of nitroglycerin; in ruling that the defendant's wife was a competent witness; allowing evidence of the whereabouts of the children and finding their bodies in Toronto; in permitting jurors to enter the box on their statement they had formed and expressed an opinion regarding the guilt or innocence of defendant; in chargwealth and not sufficient prominence to the evidence favorable to the prisoner.

DOUBLE MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Villiam Kunts Kills a Woman and Daughter and Later Himself. LAREDO, Tex., Nov. 13.-Last Monday man, accompanied by a middle-aged woman and an eight-year-old girl, registered at the Hamilton Hotel as C. Schuler and family, of San Antonio. In conversation the woman had stated that she and her husband were from St. Louis and more recently from Fort Worth, where her son kept a hotel. Her husband had a position in view, she said, with a railway company in Monterey, and they were to leave for that city Tuesday afternoon. About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the man procured a horse and buggy, ostensibly to drive his wife and child to the depot. About 4:30 he returned the buggy and proceeded to the hotel, ate supper and retired to his room. Very early this morning a Mexican shepherd discovered two bodies lying in some brush about three miles northeast of the city. He immediately notified the city officials, who rought the remains to the morgue. They were identified as having been seen with the so-called Schuler. The chief of police immediately called at the Hotel Hamilton, where he had registered. The proprietor, Mr. Christen, called to him over the transom and immediately received a response. He was asked where his wife and child were and was told that Mr. Christen desired to see him. He replied that he would come to the door very shortly, but after some delay a pistol shot was heard. It was some time before the police could enter on the bed, with a bullet in his heart. illow was found an insurance $3,000 in his own favor and a deed of trust executed for property in East Louis. Several letters were found in trunks from various persons, some addressed to William Kuntz, St. Louis and Fort Worth, and several others to Mrs. Caroline Mann, East St. Louis and Dallas. Over $1,600 in $100 bills was found on the man's person; also two watches and a charm, with "Kuntz" engraved on it. From apers found it seems that his home was ful little girl and another woman, perhaps twenty-eight or thirty years of age were found in his room. One letter addressed Willie," written in German, evidently came from Hoboken, N. J., or Kingston, N. Y. Underclothing was found marked "Kuntz," which was evidently the man's real name. It appears that Kuntz had been a stationary engineer in St. Louis. The woman with him said he was to be superintendent of some railroad works in Monterey. The Fort Worth police were wired and her son, named Mark Harrold, will arrive to-morrow. It is sup-posed the murderer wanted to rid himself of his two companions. The woman said the money they had had been left her by her father who had died.

The Hyams Murder Trial. TORONTO Ont., Nov. 13.-The defense in the Hyams murder trial scored another signal victory to-day when the court ruled out the experiments with the elevator and weight, by which the prosecution sought to demonstrate the impossibility of the weight becoming accidentally detached and falling upon Wells. A section of the noist was exhibited in court and the evidence of expert builders was sought to be introduced by the prosecution showing that the weight could not have been loosened except by design. The judge ruled, however, that changes might have been made since the fatal occurrence in the warehouse and that f these experiments were accepted as evidence tests with other elevators would be equally admissable. The most important testimony brought out to-day was given by builders John Aldridge and John Fen-som, who declared that, admitting the possibility of there having been an obstruction in the elevator shaft, there could have been none of the proportions necessary to over-come the impetus of the descending weight sufficient to cause a slack in the rope and let the weight tip and fall.

Brandon and Miss May Colleen, of Three Oaks, Mich., spent last evening at young Brandon's home and were on their way to Miss Colleen's home. Passing the Big Four station they entered to warm up by the stove. As Miss Colleen entered she was grabbed by some one on the inside and dragged into the room, while Brandon was set on by several men. Brandon broke away and ran to Main street, a half mile and notified a policeman, who hurried back to the depot. They found the girl, who said she had been assaulted by seven tramps, all of whom, except one, succeeded in getting away. The captured tramp was locked up, but has not yet been identified by the girl. There is considerable excitement here over the affair. A few nights ago a young woman on a bicycle at New Paris, near here, was overpowered and assaulted by a young stranger who came up behind her on another wheel and knocked her over. The depot where last night's outrage occurred is entirely deserted at night by railroad employes, and such an out-rage as was perpetrated could be easily ac-complished without detection. The captured tramp denies all knowledge of the affair.

WOMEN IN UTAH. Majority Would Have Been Demo-

cratic Had They Voted. Washington Post

"Had the women of Utah been allowed to vote this year," remarked Gov. Caleb W. West, chief executive of that Territory, at the Riggs, "there is every reason to believe that the Democrats would have been successful in the late elections. The bulk of the Mormon vote favors Democracy, and the Mormon ladies creat majority of cases would have been ound supporting our ticket. The new constitution provides for woman suffrage on an exactly even footing with men, but Republicans took care in the constitutional convention to insert a clause that rohibited them from voting until 1896. Thile on the subject, I don't mind admitting that I am a convert to the cause of female suffrage, and am sure that so far as the West is concerned it is a good thing. We had it once in Utah; it was taken from us and ever since the people have agitated for its restoration. Had it not been granted by our organic law the agitation would have gone on indefinitely; so it was best to settle the matter for all time.'

"To what do you attribute the defeat "Well, besides the general causes operating over the restricts the country there fortune. The campaign was not conducted with marked wisdom on our side in any respect. One big blunder was the nomination of United States Senators in the State convention against the protest of Weber county, of which Ogden is the county seat. Again, the pronunciamento put out against the Mormon Church was not a politic or necessary move, seeing that the church, as a religious organization, has nothing to do with political parties, and was in no wise to blame for the attitude of any individual member. This undoubtedly cost the Democratic party a lot of votes. "The Governor of the new State is a roung Salt Lake banker, H. M. Wells, a native of the Territory, I think, and the associated with Brigham Young in conducting the first presidency. He is a man of high character and will make a good "I think it quite certain that Hon. ## School Statistics.

Dr. William T. Harris, the United States Commissioner of Education, has just made his fifth annual report, which covers the school year ending November 39, 1893. Statistics show that in that year the whole number of pupils enrolled in schools and colleges, public and private, in the United States was about 15,000,000 or nearly a quarter of the entire population. The enroll ment of pupils in public schools increase nearly two per cent. over the preceding year, and the average attendance three year, and the average attendance three and one-half per cent. In that year there were employed 122,000 male and 260,000 female teachers. Since 1880 there has been a male teachers, the author of male teachers, decrease in the number of male teachers but the number of female teachers has in-creased nearly three-fourths. The number of school-houses was 235,000, valued at near-ly four hundred million dollars. For the year the school revenue was $165,000,000, and the expenditures $163,000,000. In the last twenty years the value of school property in the United States and the common-school expenditure have more than doubled. In profesional education it is interesting to tote that theological schools are more heavily endowed compared with their ex-penses than any other class of institutions. Of theological students one-half get their educational training in denominational schools, one-sixth in non-sectarian schools, and only three per cent. in State univer-MUNCIE, Ind., Nov. 13,-Three months ago Walter Doniery, a young saloon keep

BUTLER'S FIRST VICTORY. She Defeats the Knightstown Team by

The Butler football eleven, of this city, played the Knightstown eleven at Rushville yesterday afternoon, the former winning by a score of 18 to 0. It was Knightstown's first defeat and Butler's first victory. The game was one between a strong town team and a trained college team, and coached men won. Butler played the best game she has played this season, for there was an indication of team work, the necessity of which Marshall Flint, the coach, has tried to impress upon the team. Moore appeared at center for the first time for Butler, and it was shown that he is strong addition to the eleven. Last year he played with the High School team. #### DEATH OF AN OCTOGENARIAN.

Rebecca M. Marsee, Widow of Late Rev. J. M. Marsec, Passes Away.

Rebecca M. Marsee, aged eighty-four, wife of Rev. Joseph M. Marsee, who died in 1873, died yesterday at the family home, at 203 East South street, which has been her home for thirty-five years. She came here from Kentucky in 1842. She leaves six living children, Dr. Joseph W., John L., S. M., Louisa, Mary and Emma. Mrs. Mar-see was a well-known woman and for many years was an active worker in the Methodist Church. In the more recent years she has been too feeble to take any active part. Her husband was a prominent minister of the Methodist Church and was known throughout the State.

RUMORED THAT A ST. LOUIS MER-CHANT LOST $10,000.

Robbery Alleged to Have Occurred on Big Four-No Corroboration of Informant's Story.

It was reported on the street last night that J. L. Ensight, of St. Louis, a diamond dealer, had been robbed of a valise containing $10,000 worth of diamonds on the Big Four train that leaves here for Cincinnati at 6:20 in the evening. A man who gave his name as Clark and said he was a switchman in the Big Four yards told the story, but seemed to know little about it. It was not reported at police headquarters nor to the offices of the Big Four road. Nothing was known of it at the Union Sta- | Special Sale Price .. tion. The story as told by Clark is that Ensight was on his way from St. Louis to Cincinnati and had two vallses, both of which contained diamonds and other jewelry. When the train left here he was sitin a seat alone with the valises by side. When the train reached Special Sale Price. the Belt road two men entered the car and passed along the aisle until they came to Ensight, One of them grabbed one of the valises and the two men then jumped from the moving train and disappeared. According to Clark's story it is supposed that the men belonged to what is known as "Big" Ed Ryan's gang, of Chicago. They had foilowed Ensight from St. Louis and simply awaited their opportunity to get the valuables. The story could not be corroborated either here or in Cincinnati.
